

January News 2019

We hope everyone had a wonderful, relaxing holiday and that you are all ready for the New Year. We are looking forward to getting right back into our routines and working hard now that we are back at school. In the Kindergarten classroom we will be wishing for more snow as we begin to discuss winter and explore the new season. We ended December with a couple of science experiments that the students seemed to enjoy so we will continue using our inquiring science minds to explore the snow and ice. Reading and writing are always a focus in the primary classrooms so we will continue having the students write daily and work together on our shared reads. We review math concepts daily through our Math centers and mini lessons, please take time to count with your children while completing daily activities to reinforce this skill e.g. counting their stuffed animals, counting the fruit in the fruit bowl etc.

The Kindergarten students love to create at our production center, it is difficult (and costly) for us to refill all of our materials as they get used. Please help us by donating materials to our class. We are always looking for ribbons, stickers, fancy paper, pompoms, googly eyes, toilet paper rolls or anything else that could be transformed into something 'beautiful'.

REMINDERS

- Please dress your child for the weather, this includes snow pants, hats, mittens and scarves. Our classroom can get warm throughout the day but we do appreciate if you send your child in long sleeves. Short sleeves or tank tops in the winter months make it very cold for your child outside.
- We took a break from Home Reading over the holidays but it will start being sent home again. Remember to fill out the reading log so we know you have read the book with your child.
- PA Day Monday January 21st, 2019
- Happy Birthday Olivia, Aubrey, Camdyn and Dale our January babies!

Notes

Happy New Year! Please remember to dress your child for the weather, we go outside for outdoor exploration a couple days a week.

This month we ask the STAR STUDENT to bring in a picture of a special memory to share with the class.
